Farobiy IT academy

Tashkent

Learner

I undertook an in-depth backend course, starting from the fundamentals and progressing through advanced concepts. Throughout the duration of the course, I collaborated with fellow students on multiple projects, demonstrating my ability to work effectively in a team environment while applying theoretical knowledge to practical applications. Below are details of the projects completed during the course:

*Project Blog-post:

I have created a website where daily blogs are published using Django and DRF technologies.

*Project Portfolio

This project is all about my portfolio, first built with Django and then with the Django Rest framework.

*Project Episode

This project is dedicated to episodes in which you can listen to music. The project was built using the Django Rest framework. PostgreSQL, Celery, Redis, Swagger were also used.
